Appointment of Non-Governmental Advisers to the International Competition Network

Following a call for expressions of interest in April 2015, the Competition Commission (Commission) has appointed Stephen Crosswell, Martyn Huckerby, Clara Ingen-Housz, Mark Jephcott, Kelvin Kwok, Sandra Marco Colino and Natalie Yeung as its Non-Governmental Advisers (NGAs) to the International Competition Network (ICN) for a period of two years from 1 July 2015.

The Commission has been an active member of the ICN and is already engaged in the work of a number of ICN Working Groups. Support from the wider competition community in Hong Kong by way of NGA participation will ensure that maximum benefit is obtained from the Commission's membership of ICN.
